HOUSE APPROVES COTTON MEASURE

Thirty Republicans Vote With Democrats for Bill.

REDUCES REVENUE $3,000,000

Third Large Tariff Revision Project Passes by Vote of 202 to 91—Cuts Average Tariff on Cotton Manufactured Goods 21 Per Cent—Regular Republicans Attack Bill Vigorously, but Not an Amendment Is Offered.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Supported by all the Democrats and by thirty progressive Republicans the Democratic cotton tariff bill, the third of the big tariff revision measures brought forward by the Democratic house of representatives, passed that body by 202 to 91. The bill cuts the average tariff on cotton manufactured goods from 48 to 27 per cent ad valorem, a 21 per cent reduction in duty that the Democratic leaders estimate to reduce revenue by about $3,000,000.

Not an amendment was offered to the bill, although the Republicans attacked it vigorously on account of alleged increases in certain items over the rates of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Practically all of the progressives from the Northwest voted for the bill. Northwestern members lined up as follows:

For the bill: Anderson, Davis, Miller, Lindbergh, Steenerson and Volstead, Minnesota; Lenroot, Nelson, Morse, Kopp and Esch, Wisconsin; Haugen, Hubbard and Woods, Iowa, and Hanna and Helgeson, North Dakota.

Against the bill: Stevens and Nye, Minnesota; Burke, South Dakota, and Cooper, Wisconsin.

Scarcely had the cheers that greeted the passage of the cotton revision bill subsided when Democratic Leader Underwood, calling up the free list bill as it passed the senate a few days ago, accomplished a strategic move which surprised the Republicans.

Lemons Put on Free List.

He asked for a conference on all the amendments to the free list bill except that of Senator Gronna of North Dakota, putting cement on the free list. He urged that the house accept that amendment, adding to it lemons. Pacific coast Republicans made ineffectual attempts to stop this sudden and unexpected putting of lemons on the free list, but the amendment carried. The change gave the house Democrats what they claimed to be an added advantage in dealing with the senate in the conference committee.

The Republican leaders in both houses of congress called in absent members from all parts of the country in preparation for a threatened attempt of the Democrats to pass the wool tariff bill over President Taft's veto. The Democratic leaders in the house have asserted within the last twenty-four hours that they have the necessary two-thirds majority to pass the wool bill over the president's veto and have been doing effective missionary work in the senate. The Republican managers in the house insist that they have enough votes to prevent the two-thirds majority in support of the wool bill.

Bitter attacks on Democratic caucus methods by Representative Payne of New York and other Republican leaders and a charge by Representative Prouty of Iowa, Republican progressive, supported by Representatives McCall of Massachusetts and Hill of Connecticut, that the Underwood bill made enormous increases in the tariff on certain cotton cloth manufactured in Southern mills, marked the closing hours of debate on the cotton bill.

Former Republican Speaker Cannon upheld the Democratic caucus policy, declaring that "this is a government by party organization," while Representative Lenroot, Republican progressive, earnestly defended the cotton measure and denounced the attempts of his fellow Republicans to make it appear that the bill revised any schedule upwards.

ADMIRAL TOGO IN NEW YORK

Famous Jap Sea Fighter Given Midnight Welcome.

New York, Aug. 4.—The United States at midnight formally welcomed to its shores Admiral Count Heihashiro Togo of the Japanese navy, hero of the Russo-Japanese war. The welcome was given aboard the steamer Lusitania at Quarantine by representatives of the state, war and navy departments and a representative of Governor John A. Dix.

After a few cordial words of welcome on behalf of the nation the delegation of Americans accompanied the distinguished Japanese in a tug to the revenue cutter Seneca. A few moments later the Seneca was speeding for her pier at Twenty-third street, Hudson river, whence Admiral Togo was taken away in an automobile to his hotel.

Two Killed in Wreck.

Cleveland, Aug. 2.—Two women were killed and a man probably fatally injured when an Erie passanger train running sixty miles an hour struck an automobile at North Randall.

Travelers Have Their Eyes Opened to Bigness, Charm and Wealth of Northern Minnesota

BRAINERD IS ITS PORTAL

Four Foot Corn on New Breaking—$2 Potatoes—Other Good Things Recorded

The St. Paul Sunday Pioneer Press under the heading, "In the Smoking Room En Tour up State," records the observations of travelers with open ears who have their eyes opened to the bigness, the charm and the wealth of northern Minnesota, to all of which rich empire Brainerd is the natural gateway. The article states:

"Introductions are not needed in the sleeping car smoker. You strike a light, puff a while, and before you realize it you are giving somebody your views of life, general and intimate, as well as of the landscape rushing past. The only thing that approaches a smoking compartment for unconventional sociability is a public bus. But a bus ride is short, and the bus ride conversation, consequently, is confined to desultory and more or less supercilious observations on the weather, the roads, the bus itself, the team and the driver. The smoking room conversation strings out like the journey, and, like the train, takes one into new and ever interesting places. En tour one may add as much to his fund of information by using his ears as by using his eyes. Using both, any trip will profit any man.

The M. & I. night train was speeding south from Bemidji, presenting to the passengers a wonderful panorama of the north country. Just above the horizon the sun alternately shone and was obscured. Evergreens appeared to hurry past the hurrying train. Then the sun shine fell in at the windows across a man-made clearing, grown high with bending barley; then its yellow rays were deepened as they ranged across a yellow field of rye in stack. Another stretch of trees, grown up since a recent burning, the blackened signs of which were still apparent. Succeeding this, as the train sped on, another clearing in which the harvest stood ready. As for the rest of the country landscape it was made up of lakes of many sizes, and streams connecting them—some close beside the track, some distant. Here and there, of course, a town. But one cannot see a town to advantage from a railroad car. Traveling by train one beholds the back yard, not the front lawn; in the distance rise the spires and the flagpoles, but the foreground, ordinarily, is unlovely. The way to get the right impression of a country town is to drive into it from a country road. But the country can be seen to real advantage from a train.

A fat man entered the crowded smoking room, upended his suitcase, sat on it so the descending sun shone full in his face, lighted a cigar and puffed and listened.

"I used to think I knew the state pretty well," a red-headed man in khaki trousers and blue flannel shirt was saying, "but never until this trip did I get it into my head that Brainerd, the most northerly town I make is just about the center of Minnesota. North of Brainerd we have practically another state big enough for several million people without making things too tame and crowded. There are only a few thousand here now."

"I learned about it only recently—or rather, I'm just learning," said a man whose youth could not be disguised by the mustache he was trying to grow. "My dad took up a homestead north of Lake Itasca in 1906, and when that was all in fine shape last year, I took up one half a mile up the Mallard road.

The fat man on the suitcase seemed interested.

"What do you raise up here?—I'm from Missouri, and they've shown me some interesting things around here, but mostly about fish and fishing. Now I'd like to ask about crops. What can you raise on your homestead?"

"Almost anything you can raise in Missouri, except peaches and cotton," said the young farmer. "Clover, hay, stock, wheat, oats, barley, rye and potatoes; and I have a fine field of corn four feet high, and this is only the 24th of July. For clover, hay, potatoes and live stock this up-state country can't be beat. Dad's proved it. And I am going to, too.

"Lonesome? Not very. See this postcard picture? That's the road going by my house. It's a good wagon and auto road and has a telephone line on each side. A fellow who came along it on a motorcycle, carrying a camera, took that picture for me, and this other one of my corn. I've got a friend in Webster county, Iowa, who thinks we can't raise corn

BARRYMORE PAPERS SERVED

Actress Seeks Custody of Baby but Doesn't Ask Alimony.

New York, Aug. 4.—Ethel Barrymore has filed papers in her contemplated suit for divorce against Russell Griswold Colt, and service has been made on Colt at his apartments at the Yale club here.

The complaint is based on statutory grounds. No alimony is sought, but the actress prays for the custody of her baby, less than two years old.

TWITS DEMOCRATS ON PARTY HARMONY

Congressman Mann Refers to Bryan-Underwood Incident.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Republican Leader Mann, in the house of representatives, twitted the Democrats over the Underwood-Bryan incident. He declared that apparently Mr. Underwood was now the "whole thing" and that William Jennings Bryan had not a single defender in the house.

"When Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama in parliamentary language called Mr. Bryan a liar," said Mr. Mann, "not a man rose in this house to protest.

"It is pleasant to see the beautiful harmony that exists amongst the Democrats of the country, with the gentleman from Alabama on the one side and the gentleman from Nebraska, Mr. Bryan, on the other, pulling hair and calling each other names.

"Oscar W. Underwood is not only the leader of the Democratic majority; he is the majority. He is not only the chairman of the ways and means committee; he is the ways and means committee. The speaker used to be high mogul in the house. Today the speaker is the servant, not the master."

LA FOLLETTE FOR PRESIDENT

Boom Launched by Wisconsin Progressive Republican League.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 4.—The proposed candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for the presidency will be boomed in every county and hamlet in the state, according to a decision reached by the officers and executive committee of the Wisconsin branch of the Progressive Republican league.

The plan proposed is the formation of a progressive club in every county in Wisconsin, pledged to have for its prime purpose the advancement of La Follette toward the president's chair. The committee decided to call a meeting of the whole league about Oct. 1, when ways and means of promoting the campaign will be devised.

PERMANENT PEACE BUREAU

Conference at Berne of Economists and Historians.

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 4.—A conference of economists and historians which marks the first active steps by the Permanent Bureau of Peace in its campaign against war, was begun in University hall under splendid auspices and the conferees express the belief their first meeting will do much toward putting the movement for international peace on a practical instead of a sentimental basis.

The first session was taken up with the organization for future work by the conference.

CUBAN REVOLUTIONIST QUITS

General Acevedo Leaves Hiding Place and Surrenders.

Havana, Aug. 4.—General Acevedo, who endeavored to start a revolution at Reglia Monday night, surrendered to Governor Asbert in the town of Santa Maria del Rosario, a short distance south of Havana, in the vicinity of which he had been hiding.

He was brought back to Havana in Senor Asbert's automobile and placed in jail to await action of the civil court.

ON DISPATCH TO AN OMAHA PAPER

Bryan States His Basis for Underwood Charges.

MORE CRITICISM IS COMING

Nebraskan Says if Report Is Correct He Has Nothing to Withdraw—If It Is Erroneous He Will Take Back His Criticism of Alabaman So Far as It Is Based on His Action in That Particular, but the End Is Not Yet.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—William Jennings Bryan replied to the criticism of Representative Underwood, made in the house Wednesday, by declaring that the charges which Mr. Underwood criticised were based on a Washington dispatch which appeared in an Omaha paper. "If that report is incorrect," said Mr. Bryan, "I take it for granted that Mr. Underwood will read the report before the house and deny it.

"If the report is correct I have nothing to withdraw. If it is erroneous I shall withdraw my criticism of Mr. Underwood so far as it is based on his action in that particular case. Whatever the outcome in this particular instance I do not withdraw my criticism of Mr. Underwood on other occasions and I intend to take early opportunity to give him some other things to discuss:

"The dispatch from Washington said that Speaker Clark offered a resolution—a modification of or a substitute for a resolution by another member—instructing the ways and means committee to proceed with the preparation of other bills. The dispatch stated that Mr. Clark was supported by a number of members, but that Representatives Underwood and Fitzgerald led a fight against the resolution and defeated it.

"The report also quoted Congressman Kitchin," continued Mr. Bryan, "as insisting upon the introduction of a bill reducing the tariff upon iron and steel and quotes Mr. Kitchin as calling attention to Mr. Underwood's holdings in the steel company and as expressing the fear that, in case of failure to proceed with the reduction of the tariff on iron and steel, such failure might be attributed to Mr. Underwood's interests in the business. My editorial was based upon this published report."

Mr. Bryan was in the city between trains.

UNDERWOOD STANDING PAT

House Leader Says Bryan's Statements Differ From Facts.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Democratic Leader Underwood of the house stood squarely upon his answer to William J. Bryan's attack on him in connection with the iron and steel tariff schedules. He had little comment to make upon Mr. Bryan's interview in Chicago in which the Nebraskan again challenged his position.

"Mr. Bryan says I ought to give a full report of the caucus to the house," said Mr. Underwood. "I did give such a report and my statements were confirmed by other members of my party present at the caucus. I have not seen the newspaper dispatch on which Mr. Bryan based his criticism of me, but judging from his statements it did not agree with the facts."

HAS BECOME USED TO IT

Bryan Not Perturbed Over Being "Read Out of Party."

Mount Pleasant, Ia., Aug. 4.—William Jennings Bryan spoke at the Chautauqua here and, referring to Representative Underwood's statement in the house, said:

"George Fred Williams was the first man to read me out of the Democratic party, but it has happened so often since that it has lost its significance. In fact it is a very cool day when I am not read out of the Democratic party. I was read out of it again Wednesday."

Mr. Bryan declared that he would never run for the presidency and repeated his old charge that Roosevelt and other Republicans had stolen bodily many of his present theories and policies for their platforms.

REWARDS HARLEM MARSHAL

Bank Votes $500 to Officer Who Shot Robber Carrying Off Cash.

Harlem, Mont., Aug. 4.—Directors of the First National bank, whose cash was saved by Marshal Laswell's quick action in shooting dead a robber, have voted a reward of $500 for Laswell, and the cashier, J. A. Watch, and his assistant, John A. Rasmussen, have presented Marshal Laswell with the most modern revolver in the market.

The two robbers who escaped have not been located and search has been practically abandoned. There are rewards aggregating $1,500 for their apprehension.

Cat Medicine.

The ancient physicians had a firm belief in the healing powers of different portions of the cat, probably from some confusion existing in their minds with regard to its nine lives. One of them gives as a valuable recipe to cure fevers two pints of water mixed with three drops of blood taken from the ear of an ass and certain parts of a cat's digestive organs.

HORSE BOLTS WITH DENEEN

Governor Painfully Injured When Mount Crashes Into Carriage.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 4.—Governor Charles S. Deneen, commander-in-chief of the Illinois national guard, suffered painful injuries and narrowly escaped more serious hurts at the encampment of the First regiment when the horse on which he was riding became unmanageable and dashed into a carriage at the roadside. The governor's horse became frightened when Colonel Richard J. Shand's mount bolted into the chief executive's horse.

With the bit in his teeth the animal leaped off the road and crashed into the carriage, scraping Governor Deneen's leg on the vehicle.

STARS AND STRIPES ARE HAULED DOWN

Canadian Authorities Feared Unpleasant Flag Incident.

London, Ont., Aug. 4.—As a result of many protests from citizens Alderman Mitchell, chairman of the decoration committee of the London Old Boys' association, ordered down all American flags which had been included in street decorations.

Poles along the main street had been draped with bunting and to top off each were four Canadian and four American flags, the latter being included because many of those returning to their home town for the "Old Boys'" celebration are now residents and citizens of the United States. So much feeling developed that owing to fear that an unpleasant flag incident might occur it was decided to remove the American flags.

Alderman Mitchell's action was sustained by the East London Progressive association, which voted, after a warm discussion, to write to the city council a letter commending the alderman's decision. During the discussion members declared that they had been compelled, while visiting in Detroit, to remove Canadian flags which they were wearing on their coats. One member declared that he had seen the American flag cheered and the Union Jack hissed while in a theater there.

American citizens here are indignant and there is talk of withdrawing the float which they were going to put in the parade next week.

GERMANY TO GAIN DEMANDS

London Paper Says Nation Will Be Given Part of Congo.

London, Aug. 4.—The Times displays prominently a statement to the effect that there is reason to believe that a possible basis for an agreement in the Moroccan question has been reported. The demands of Germany will be granted, it is said, and there will be a transfer to Germany of a part of the French Congo, not necessarily on the coast.

Runs Amuck in Hotel.

Edinburg, N. D., Aug. 4.—Frank Merilo, from Wright, Minn., ran amuck in the Merchants hotel here, shot Chris Buck, sixty-five years old, founder of Edinburg, through the neck, narrowly missed F. S. Pritchett, hotel proprietor, and then sent three bullets into his own right side. He died almost instantly. Though Buck's wound is serious physicians expect he will recover.

An Irishman named Pat Carr was met by an Englishman one day, who said to him:

"What's your name?"

"Carr," said Pat.

"Well, well," said the Englishman; "you're the first car I ever saw going without an ass, so you're a great sight to me."

"Begob!" said Pat. "You're not the first ass I saw going without a car, so you're no sight to me."—London Globe.

DISCUSSES GARY DINNERS

Republic Iron and Steel Company Official on Stand.

New York, Aug. 4.—John A. Topping, chairman of the board of directors of the Republic Iron and Steel company, which recently cut prices on steel products, told the house committee of inquiry into the affairs of the United States Steel corporation that no agreement to maintain prices existed between the steel corporation and independent companies.

Mr. Topping was led into a discussion of the so called "Gary dinners," where steel men assemble to discuss the trade, and his attention called to the fact that at a Gary dinner just after the Republic company cut prices last May he had not been present. Mr. Topping said he did not know whether he had been slighted because the Republic company had slashed the price.

In response to questions regarding steel price agreements Mr. Topping said he had not recognized any "golden rule" of prices, such as have been talked about since Mr. Gary inaugurated his banquets.

TREATIES READY FOR SENATE

Greatest Step for Abolition of War Ever Taken.

Washington, Aug. 4.—President Taft will send to the senate the general arbitration treaties between the United States and Great Britain and the United States and France, signed for this government and for Great Britain here and signed in Paris for the government of France.

The brief messages of transmittal to the senate were written and signed by the president and it will lie with the United States senate to ratify what has been termed the greatest step toward the abolition of warfare that the world thus far has taken.

Already there have been mutterings from the senate over these treaties

Attorney General Files Report on New York Merger.

CONTENTS NOT MADE PUBLIC

Document Now in Hands of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, Who Will Review the Findings and Decide What Action to Take—Opinion Believed to Hold That Security Concerns and National Banks Can Not Consolidate.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Attorney General Wickersham's report upon his inquiry into the relations of the National City bank of New York with the recently organized National company was transmitted to Secretary MacVeagh. It probably will be a day or two before the secretary reviews the findings and a week or more before he decides what action, if any, the treasury department shall take.

Attorney General Wickersham is said to have held that such restrictions connect the "security companies" so closely with the banks as to bring them within a transgression of the national bank laws.

His ruling is said to follow close on the lines of a decision by the supreme court, which, department of justice officials say, interpreted the national bank law to mean that each national bank shall be an integral unit and that none of its capital stock shall be held directly or indirectly by another national bank or by any device created for that purpose.

If Secretary MacVeagh's decision is made upon the attorney general's findings readjustment of the holding of stocks of many of the greatest national banks of the country may be necessary.

It was learned that the banking interests are prepared for an adverse decision and that a complete understanding with the government will be reached without litigation. While the bankers, in organizing the company, acted with the advice of their lawyers they are said to be willing to comply with any demands the treasury department may make.

As Secretary MacVeagh's decision will outline the government's attitude toward concentration of, control or ownership of national banks by the "security company" method—a situation which affects banking interests the country over—there is every indication that the government's course will be laid out with the greatest deliberation and the whole question may be discussed by the cabinet before any public announcement is made.

ROOSEVELT SCORES COURT

Again Asserts Workmen's Compensation Act Is Constitutional.

Lyons, N. Y., Aug. 4.—"It is simply nonsense to suppose that this country will tolerate permanently a line of action such as the court of appeals followed in declaring unconstitutional the workmen's compensation act," is the statement of Theodore Roosevelt made public here. Other quotations follow:

"Four federal judges have written that they agreed with me that the action of the New York court of appeals is so utterly reactionary as to be an invitation to revolution.

"No man who takes the opposite ground to that which I have taken to the article in question has a right to the bench and it is a misfortune to have them there."

HUNGARIAN DEPUTIES FIGHT

Fist Encounter to Be Followed by Duel With Sabers.

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 4.—A lively fist fight, to be followed by a duel with sabers, enlivened the proceedings in the lower chamber, which recently has suffered from dullness in consequence of the prolonged obstructive tactics of the opposition. An interruption of a debate started a row, and finally Herr Pozsgay, a Kossuth partisan, made a dive for Herr Pal of the government side. The latter met Pozsgay half way, dealing him a staggering right hand blow between the eyes.

Confusion followed and the president was obliged to suspend the session.

RAISES HOUSE MEMBERSHIP

Senate Passes Congressional Reapportionment Bill.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The amended house congressional reapportionment bill, providing that after March 3, 1913, the house of representatives shall consist of 433 members, exclusive of Arizona and New Mexico, an increase of forty-two over the present membership, was passed by the senate without roll call.

The bill now goes to conference between the two houses for agreement as to the senate amendments before going to the president for his approval.

The measure is so drawn that no state will lose in representation, while in several cases there will be a decided increase.

Minnesota will gain one representative in the house and North and South Dakota each will gain one member.

HOUSE APPROVES COTTON MEASURE

Thirty Republicans Vote With Democrats for Bill.

REDUCES REVENUE $3,000,000

Third Large Tariff Revision Project Passes by Vote of 202 to 91—Cuts Average Tariff on Cotton Manufactured Goods 21 Per Cent—Regular Republicans Attack Bill Vigorously, but Not an Amendment Is Offered.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Supported by all the Democrats and by thirty progressive Republicans the Democratic cotton tariff bill, the third of the big tariff revision measures brought forward by the Democratic house of representatives, passed that body by 202 to 91. The bill cuts the average tariff on cotton manufactured goods from 48 to 27 per cent ad valorem, a 21 per cent reduction in duty that the Democratic leaders estimate to reduce revenue by about $3,000,000.

Not an amendment was offered to the bill, although the Republicans attacked it vigorously on account of alleged increases in certain items over the rates of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Practically all of the progressives from the Northwest voted for the bill. Northwestern members lined up as follows:

For the bill: Anderson, Davis, Miller, Lindbergh, Steenerson and Volstead, Minnesota; Lenroot, Nelson, Morse, Kopp and Esch, Wisconsin; Haugen, Hubbard and Woods, Iowa, and Hanna and Helgeson, North Dakota.

Against the bill: Stevens and Nye, Minnesota; Burke, South Dakota, and Cooper, Wisconsin.

Scarcely had the cheers that greeted the passage of the cotton revision bill subsided when Democratic Leader Underwood, calling up the free list bill as it passed the senate a few days ago, accomplished a strategic move which surprised the Republicans.

Lemons Put on Free List.

He asked for a conference on all the amendments to the free list bill except that of Senator Gronna of North Dakota, putting cement on the free list. He urged that the house accept that amendment, adding to it lemons. Pacific coast Republicans made ineffectual attempts to stop this sudden and unexpected putting of lemons on the free list, but the amendment carried. The change gave the house Democrats what they claimed to be an added advantage in dealing with the senate in the conference committee.

The Republican leaders in both houses of congress called in absent members from all parts of the country in preparation for a threatened attempt of the Democrats to pass the wool tariff bill over President Taft's veto. The Democratic leaders in the house have asserted within the last twenty-four hours that they have the necessary two-thirds majority to pass the wool bill over the president's veto and have been doing effective missionary work in the senate. The Republican managers in the house insist that they have enough votes to prevent the two-thirds majority in support of the wool bill.

Bitter attacks on Democratic caucus methods by Representative Payne of New York and other Republican leaders and a charge by Representative Prouty of Iowa, Republican progressive, supported by Representatives McCall of Massachusetts and Hill of Connecticut, that the Underwood bill made enormous increases in the tariff on certain cotton cloth manufactured in Southern mills, marked the closing hours of debate on the cotton bill.

Former Republican Speaker Cannon upheld the Democratic caucus policy, declaring that "this is a government by party organization," while Representative Lenroot, Republican progressive, earnestly defended the cotton measure and denounced the attempts of his fellow Republicans to make it appear that the bill revised any schedule upwards.

ADMIRAL TOGO IN NEW YORK

Famous Jap Sea Fighter Given Midnight Welcome.

New York, Aug. 4.—The United States at midnight formally welcomed to its shores Admiral Count Heihashiro Togo of the Japanese navy, hero of the Russo-Japanese war. The welcome was given aboard the steamer Lusitania at Quarantine by representatives of the state, war and navy departments and a representative of Governor John A. Dix.

After a few cordial words of welcome on behalf of the nation the delegation of Americans accompanied the distinguished Japanese in a tug to the revenue cutter Seneca. A few moments later the Seneca was speeding for her pier at Twenty-third street, Hudson river, whence Admiral Togo was taken away in an automobile to his hotel.

The St. Paul Sunday Pioneer Press under the heading, "In the Smoking Room En Tour up State," records the observations of travelers with open ears who have their eyes opened to the bigness, the charm and the wealth of northern Minnesota, to all of which rich empire Brainerd is the natural gateway. The article states:

"Introductions are not needed in the sleeping car smoker. You strike a light, puff a while, and before you realize it you are giving somebody your views of life, general and intimate, as well as of the landscape rushing past. The only thing that approaches a smoking compartment for unconventional sociability is a public bus. But a bus ride is short, and the bus ride conversation, consequently, is confined to desultory and more or less supercilious observations on the weather, the roads, the bus itself, the team and the driver. The smoking room conversation strings out like the journey, and, like the train, takes one into new and ever interesting places. En tour one may add as much to his fund of information by using his ears as by using his eyes. Using both, any trip will profit any man.

The M. & I. night train was speeding south from Bemidji, presenting to the passengers a wonderful panorama of the north country. Just above the horizon the sun alternately shone and was obscured. Evergreens appeared to hurry past the hurrying train. Then the sun shine fell in at the windows across a man-made clearing, grown high with bending barley; then its yellow rays were deepened as they ranged across a yellow field of rye in stack. Another stretch of trees, grown up since a recent burning, the blackened signs of which were still apparent. Succeeding this, as the train sped on, another clearing in which the harvest stood ready. As for the rest of the country landscape it was made up of lakes of many sizes, and streams connecting them—some close beside the track, some distant. Here and there, of course, a town. But one cannot see a town to advantage from a railroad car. Traveling by train one beholds the back yard, not the front lawn; in the distance rise the spires and the flagpoles, but the foreground, ordinarily, is unlovely. The way to get the right impression of a country town is to drive into it from a country road. But the country can be seen to real advantage from a train.

A fat man entered the crowded smoking room, upended his suitcase, sat on it so the descending sun shone full in his face, lighted a cigar and puffed and listened.

"I used to think I knew the state pretty well," a red-headed man in khaki trousers and blue flannel shirt was saying, "but never until this trip did I get it into my head that Brainerd, the most northerly town I make is just about the center of Minnesota. North of Brainerd we have practically another state big enough for several million people without making things too tame and crowded. There are only a few thousand here now."

"I learned about it only recently—or rather, I'm just learning," said a man whose youth could not be disguised by the mustache he was trying to grow. "My dad took up a homestead north of Lake Itasca in 1906, and when that was all in fine shape last year, I took up one half a mile up the Mallard road.

The fat man on the suitcase seemed interested.

"What do you raise up here?—I'm from Missouri, and they've shown me some interesting things around here, but mostly about fish and fishing. Now I'd like to ask about crops. What can you raise on your homestead?"

"Almost anything you can raise in Missouri, except peaches and cotton," said the young farmer. "Clover, hay, stock, wheat, oats, barley, rye and potatoes; and I have a fine field of corn four feet high, and this is only the 24th of July. For clover, hay, potatoes and live stock this up-state country can't be beat. Dad's proved it. And I am going to, too.

"Lonesome? Not very. See this postcard picture? That's the road going by my house. It's a good wagon and auto road and has a telephone line on each side. A fellow who came along it on a motorcycle, carrying a camera, took that picture for me, and this other one of my corn. I've got a friend in Webster county, Iowa, who thinks we can't raise corn

ETHEL BARRYMORE.

Files Suit for Divorce on Statutory Grounds.

BARRYMORE PAPERS SERVED

Actress Seeks Custody of Baby but Doesn't Ask Alimony.

New York, Aug. 4.—Ethel Barrymore has filed papers in her contemplated suit for divorce against Russell Griswold Colt, and service has been made on Colt at his apartments at the Yale club here.

The complaint is based on statutory grounds. No alimony is sought, but the actress prays for the custody of her baby, less than two years old.

TWITS DEMOCRATS ON PARTY HARMONY

Congressman Mann Refers to Bryan-Underwood Incident.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Republican Leader Mann, in the house of representatives, twitted the Democrats over the Underwood-Bryan incident. He declared that apparently Mr. Underwood was now the "whole thing" and that William Jennings Bryan had not a single defender in the house.

"When Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama in parliamentary language called Mr. Bryan a liar," said Mr. Mann, "not a man rose in this house to protest.

"It is pleasant to see the beautiful harmony that exists amongst the Democrats of the country, with the gentleman from Alabama on the one side and the gentleman from Nebraska, Mr. Bryan, on the other, pulling hair and calling each other names.

"Oscar W. Underwood is not only the leader of the Democratic majority; he is the majority. He is not only the chairman of the ways and means committee; he is the ways and means committee. The speaker used to be high mogul in the house. Today the speaker is the servant, not the master."

LA FOLLETTE FOR PRESIDENT

Boom Launched by Wisconsin Progressive Republican League.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 4.—The proposed candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for the presidency will be boomed in every county and hamlet in the state, according to a decision reached by the officers and executive committee of the Wisconsin branch of the Progressive Republican league.

The plan proposed is the formation of a progressive club in every county in Wisconsin, pledged to have for its prime purpose the advancement of La Follette toward the president's chair. The committee decided to call a meeting of the whole league about Oct. 1, when ways and means of promoting the campaign will be devised.

PERMANENT PEACE BUREAU

Conference at Berne of Economists and Historians.

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 4.—A conference of economists and historians which marks the first active steps by the Permanent Bureau of Peace in its campaign against war, was begun in University hall under splendid auspices and the conferees express the belief their first meeting will do much toward putting the movement for international peace on a practical instead of a sentimental basis.

The first session was taken up with the organization for future work by the conference.

CUBAN REVOLUTIONIST QUITS

General Acevedo Leaves Hiding Place and Surrenders.

Havana, Aug. 4.—General Acevedo, who endeavored to start a revolution at Reglia Monday night, surrendered to Governor Asbert in the town of Santa Maria del Rosario, a short distance south of Havana, in the vicinity of which he had been hiding.

He was brought back to Havana in Senor Asbert's automobile and placed in jail to await action of the civil court.

ON DISPATCH TO AN OMAHA PAPER

Bryan States His Basis for Underwood Charges.

MORE CRITICISM IS COMING

Nebraskan Says if Report Is Correct He Has Nothing to Withdraw—If It Is Erroneous He Will Take Back His Criticism of Alabaman So Far as It Is Based on His Action in That Particular, but the End Is Not Yet.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—William Jennings Bryan replied to the criticism of Representative Underwood, made in the house Wednesday, by declaring that the charges which Mr. Underwood criticised were based on a Washington dispatch which appeared in an Omaha paper. "If that report is incorrect," said Mr. Bryan, "I take it for granted that Mr. Underwood will read the report before the house and deny it.

"If the report is correct I have nothing to withdraw. If it is erroneous I shall withdraw my criticism of Mr. Underwood so far as it is based on his action in that particular case. Whatever the outcome in this particular instance I do not withdraw my criticism of Mr. Underwood on other occasions and I intend to take early opportunity to give him some other things to discuss:

"The dispatch from Washington said that Speaker Clark offered a resolution—a modification of or a substitute for a resolution by another member—instructing the ways and means committee to proceed with the preparation of other bills. The dispatch stated that Mr. Clark was supported by a number of members, but that Representatives Underwood and Fitzgerald led a fight against the resolution and defeated it.

"The report also quoted Congressman Kitchin," continued Mr. Bryan, "as insisting upon the introduction of a bill reducing the tariff upon iron and steel and quotes Mr. Kitchin as calling attention to Mr. Underwood's holdings in the steel company and as expressing the fear that, in case of failure to proceed with the reduction of the tariff on iron and steel, such failure might be attributed to Mr. Underwood's interests in the business. My editorial was based upon this published report."

Mr. Bryan was in the city between trains.

UNDERWOOD STANDING PAT

House Leader Says Bryan's Statements Differ From Facts.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Democratic Leader Underwood of the house stood squarely upon his answer to William J. Bryan's attack on him in connection with the iron and steel tariff schedules. He had little comment to make upon Mr. Bryan's interview in Chicago in which the Nebraskan again challenged his position.

"Mr. Bryan says I ought to give a full report of the caucus to the house," said Mr. Underwood. "I did give such a report and my statements were confirmed by other members of my party present at the caucus. I have not seen the newspaper dispatch on which Mr. Bryan based his criticism of me, but judging from his statements it did not agree with the facts."

HAS BECOME USED TO IT

Bryan Not Perturbed Over Being "Read Out of Party."

Mount Pleasant, Ia., Aug. 4.—William Jennings Bryan spoke at the Chautauqua here and, referring to Representative Underwood's statement in the house, said:

"George Fred Williams was the first man to read me out of the Democratic party, but it has happened so often since that it has lost its significance. In fact it is a very cool day when I am not read out of the Democratic party. I was read out of it again Wednesday."

Mr. Bryan declared that he would never run for the presidency and repeated his old charge that Roosevelt and other Republicans had stolen bodily many of his present theories and policies for their platforms.

REWARDS HARLEM MARSHAL

Bank Votes $500 to Officer Who Shot Robber Carrying Off Cash.

Harlem, Mont., Aug. 4.—Directors of the First National bank, whose cash was saved by Marshal Laswell's quick action in shooting dead a robber, have voted a reward of $500 for Laswell, and the cashier, J. A. Watch, and his assistant, John A. Rasmussen, have presented Marshal Laswell with the most modern revolver in the market.

The two robbers who escaped have not been located and search has been practically abandoned. There are rewards aggregating $1,500 for their apprehension.

Cat Medicine.

The ancient physicians had a firm belief in the healing powers of different portions of the cat, probably from some confusion existing in their minds with regard to its nine lives. One of them gives as a valuable recipe to cure fevers two pints of water mixed with three drops of blood taken from the ear of an ass and certain parts of a cat's digestive organs.

CHARLES S. DENEEN.

Suffers Painful Injuries While Horseback Riding.

HORSE BOLTS WITH DENEEN

Governor Painfully Injured When Mount Crashes Into Carriage.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 4.—Governor Charles S. Deneen, commander-in-chief of the Illinois national guard, suffered painful injuries and narrowly escaped more serious hurts at the encampment of the First regiment when the horse on which he was riding became unmanageable and dashed into a carriage at the roadside. The governor's horse became frightened when Colonel Richard J. Shand's mount bolted into the chief executive's horse.

With the bit in his teeth the animal leaped off the road and crashed into the carriage, scraping Governor Deneen's leg on the vehicle.

STARS AND STRIPES ARE HAULED DOWN

Canadian Authorities Feared Unpleasant Flag Incident.

London, Ont., Aug. 4.—As a result of many protests from citizens Alderman Mitchell, chairman of the decoration committee of the London Old Boys' association, ordered down all American flags which had been included in street decorations.

Poles along the main street had been draped with bunting and to top off each were four Canadian and four American flags, the latter being included because many of those returning to their home town for the "Old Boys'" celebration are now residents and citizens of the United States. So much feeling developed that owing to fear that an unpleasant flag incident might occur it was decided to remove the American flags.

Alderman Mitchell's action was sustained by the East London Progressive association, which voted, after a warm discussion, to write to the city council a letter commending the alderman's decision. During the discussion members declared that they had been compelled, while visiting in Detroit, to remove Canadian flags which they were wearing on their coats. One member declared that he had seen the American flag cheered and the Union Jack hissed while in a theater there.

American citizens here are indignant and there is talk of withdrawing the float which they were going to put in the parade next week.

GERMANY TO GAIN DEMANDS

London Paper Says Nation Will Be Given Part of Congo.

London, Aug. 4.—The Times displays prominently a statement to the effect that there is reason to believe that a possible basis for an agreement in the Moroccan question has been reported. The demands of Germany will be granted, it is said, and there will be a transfer to Germany of a part of the French Congo, not necessarily on the coast.

Runs Amuck in Hotel.

Edinburg, N. D., Aug. 4.—Frank Merilo, from Wright, Minn., ran amuck in the Merchants hotel here, shot Chris Buck, sixty-five years old, founder of Edinburg, through the neck, narrowly missed F. S. Pritchett, hotel proprietor, and then sent three bullets into his own right side. He died almost instantly. Though Buck's wound is serious physicians expect he will recover.

Pat Scored.

An Irishman named Pat Carr was met by an Englishman one day, who said to him:

"What's your name?"

"Carr," said Pat.

"Well, well," said the Englishman; "you're the first car I ever saw going without an ass, so you're a great sight to me."

"Begob!" said Pat. "You're not the first ass I saw going without a car, so you're no sight to me."—London Globe.

Former Senator Murphy Dead.

New York, Aug. 4.—Former United States Senator Edward Murphy of Troy, N. Y., died at his summer home at Elberon, N. J., as the result of an operation which he underwent two weeks ago. Mr. Murphy was seventy-six years old.

BANKS MAY HAVE TO REORGANIZE

DISCUSSES GARY DINNERS

Republic Iron and Steel Company Official on Stand.

New York, Aug. 4.—John A. Topping, chairman of the board of directors of the Republic Iron and Steel company, which recently cut prices on steel products, told the house committee of inquiry into the affairs of the United States Steel corporation that no agreement to maintain prices existed between the steel corporation and independent companies.

Mr. Topping was led into a discussion of the so called "Gary dinners," where steel men assemble to discuss the trade, and his attention called to the fact that at a Gary dinner just after the Republic company cut prices last May he had not been present. Mr. Topping said he did not know whether he had been slighted because the Republic company had slashed the price.

In response to questions regarding steel price agreements Mr. Topping said he had not recognized any "golden rule" of prices, such as have been talked about since Mr. Gary inaugurated his banquets.

TREATIES READY FOR SENATE

Greatest Step for Abolition of War Ever Taken.

Washington, Aug. 4.—President Taft will send to the senate the general arbitration treaties between the United States and Great Britain and the United States and France, signed for this government and for Great Britain here and signed in Paris for the government of France.

The brief messages of transmittal to the senate were written and signed by the president and it will lie with the United States senate to ratify what has been termed the greatest step toward the abolition of warfare that the world thus far has taken.

Already there have been mutterings from the senate over these treaties.

Five Berry Pickers Drowned.

Crystal Falls, Mich., Aug. 4.—A party of berry pickers returning to Mansfield in a launch from the Fence river, capsized in the Michigamme river. The launch contained seven persons five of whom were drowned.

Attorney General Files Report on New York Merger.

CONTENTS NOT MADE PUBLIC

Document Now in Hands of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, Who Will Review the Findings and Decide What Action to Take—Opinion Believed to Hold That Security Concerns and National Banks Can Not Consolidate.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Attorney General Wickersham's report upon his inquiry into the relations of the National City bank of New York with the recently organized National company was transmitted to Secretary MacVeagh. It probably will be a day or two before the secretary reviews the findings and a week or more before he decides what action, if any, the treasury department shall take.

Attorney General Wickersham is said to have held that such restrictions connect the "security companies" so closely with the banks as to bring them within a transgression of the national bank laws.

His ruling is said to follow close on the lines of a decision by the supreme court, which, department of justice officials say, interpreted the national bank law to mean that each national bank shall be an integral unit and that none of its capital stock shall be held directly or indirectly by another national bank or by any device created for that purpose.

If Secretary MacVeagh's decision is made upon the attorney general's findings readjustment of the holding of stocks of many of the greatest national banks of the country may be necessary.

It was learned that the banking interests are prepared for an adverse decision and that a complete understanding with the government will be reached without litigation. While the bankers, in organizing the company, acted with the advice of their lawyers they are said to be willing to comply with any demands the treasury department may make.

As Secretary MacVeagh's decision will outline the government's attitude toward concentration of, control or ownership of national banks by the "security company" method—a situation which affects banking interests the country over—there is every indication that the government's course will be laid out with the greatest deliberation and the whole question may be discussed by the cabinet before any public announcement is made.

ROOSEVELT SCORES COURT

Again Asserts Workmen's Compensation Act Is Constitutional.

Lyons, N. Y., Aug. 4.—"It is simply nonsense to suppose that this country will tolerate permanently a line of action such as the court of appeals followed in declaring unconstitutional the workmen's compensation act," is the statement of Theodore Roosevelt made public here. Other quotations follow:

"Four federal judges have written that they agreed with me that the action of the New York court of appeals is so utterly reactionary as to be an invitation to revolution.

"No man who takes the opposite ground to that which I have taken to the article in question has a right to the bench and it is a misfortune to have them there."

HUNGARIAN DEPUTIES FIGHT

Fist Encounter to Be Followed by Duel With Sabers.

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 4.—A lively fist fight, to be followed by a duel with sabers, enlivened the proceedings in the lower chamber, which recently has suffered from dullness in consequence of the prolonged obstructive tactics of the opposition. An interruption of a debate started a row, and finally Herr Pozsgay, a Kossuth partisan, made a dive for Herr Pal of the government side. The latter met Pozsgay half way, dealing him a staggering right hand blow between the eyes.

Confusion followed and the president was obliged to suspend the session.

RAISES HOUSE MEMBERSHIP

Senate Passes Congressional Reapportionment Bill.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The amended house congressional reapportionment bill, providing that after March 3, 1913, the house of representatives shall consist of 433 members, exclusive of Arizona and New Mexico, an increase of forty-two over the present membership, was passed by the senate without roll call.

The bill now goes to conference between the two houses for agreement as to the senate amendments before going to the president for his approval.

The measure is so drawn that no state will lose in representation, while in several cases there will be a decided increase.

Minnesota will gain one representative in the house and North and South Dakota each will gain one member.

Life is Smooth Sailing after you have saved your money

and put it in the Bank

Debt is a TERRIBLE MASTER. Debt comes usually from unsafe speculation. Instead of listening to the get-rich-quick talk of some smooth stranger, who promises the impossible result of doubling your money in a short while, take banker's advice; PLAY SAFE—bank your money until some good business chance comes RIGHT HERE AT HOME where you can ATTEND TO YOUR OWN BUSINESS. THEN life will soon be smoth sailing.

Life is Smooth Sailing after you have saved your money

and put it in the Bank

Debt is a TERRIBLE MASTER. Debt comes usually from unsafe speculation. Instead of listening to the get-rich-quick talk of some smooth stranger, who promises the impossible result of doubling your money in a short while, take banker's advice; PLAY SAFE—bank your money until some good business chance comes RIGHT HERE AT HOME where you can ATTEND TO YOUR OWN BUSINESS. THEN life will soon be smoth sailing.

LOOKS DARK FOR COLORED MAN

Robert Lee is Accused of Robbing City Hotel Register of $5 and Brandishing Weapon

WRESTLED WITH PROPRIETOR

Thomas Hanson, Aged 15, Pleads Guilty to Stealing Bicycle of Christ West

Two cases were called in municipal court this morning. Judge J. H. Warner first heard the charge of stealing or grand larceny in the second degree brought against Thomas Hanson, the 15 year old son of Hans Hanson, of 908 Sixth Ave. N. E. According to the complaint the lad is said to have stolen the bicycle of Christ West from near the National hotel on or about July 15. The wheel was recovered while the boy was disposing of it. He was brought before Judge Warner in July and allowed to go home to get his father to come to court. Young Hanson never came back.

Thursday Patrolman D. A. Peterson, of Northeast Brainerd, found the boy and arrested him. The father and the complaining witness were in court. The boy on being arraigned plead guilty to the charge, sentence to be imposed this afternoon.

C. J. Evensta, the proprietor of the City hotel, last night related a story to the police which resulted in the arrest of Robert Lee, a colored man. Mr. Evensta states that at about 11:30 Thursday evening he heard his cash register in the saloon just west of his hotel give a sharp ring. He ran through the area way. The door at the east side of the saloon was open. He ran into the saloon and found the register open and $5.20 missing. Seeing no one in the place he hurriedly ran back to the hotel part and through the kitchen and into the alley, hoping to intercept the burglar. Just then he saw the intruder bursting through the rear door of the saloon.

He grappled with the man near the fence and when a gun was thrust in his face Evensta let go and looked around for an ax to continue the unequal contest. Evensta found a shovel and threw it after the man but was unable to hit him as he ran through the gate of the fence.

At the afternoon session Lee was represented by Attorneys Barron and Charles A. Russell. The reading of the complaint was waived. The county attorney, W. A. Fleming, desired a continuance as he was engaged in a case before Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court. Judge Warner then set the case for nine o'clock Saturday morning.

The complaint as filed is sworn to by C. J. Evensta and alleges that Lee took $5.20 from the saloon on August 3 and then broke out of the building by forcing and breaking the back door.

Judge Warner took up the Hanson case and sentenced the boy, Thomas Hanson, to the Red Wing training school for a term continuing during his minority.

GENEROUS MANAGER

Harry Laymon, of the Empress, Gives a Score Board to the Baseball Park

Harry Laymon, manager of the Empress theatre, one of the greatest baseball fans in the city, has presented the team and park with a handsome score board 12 feet in height and 12 feet in length. Contractor C. B. Rowley is engaged today in setting up the board.

Its surface is slated and painted three coats and any figures marked can be seen over the field. It will be placed near left field. "All I wish," said Mr. Laymon, "is that there will be very few goose eggs chalked up to Brainerd. I want the board to show nothing but victories."

This board is a necessity and every attendant at the games will appreciate its installation and thank the man who conceived the idea of presenting it to the management.

Red, White and Green Hydrants

The Editor Brainerd Dispatch:—

Some few days ago you gave an explanation of the colors on the hydrants. Now, though I have every respect possible for Secretary Nelson, still I think you must have been misinformed. I think the following reason more likely to be correct. It is well known to all interested in such things that the colors red, white and green represent Ireland and a good poet of that nation explains them as follows:

"The red resembles the martyr's gore
The white for freedom round our shore,
And green was the mantle Erin wore
The day she was invaded."

Now any one acquainted with the Irish people knows how bitter they are against placing the red above the green unless as in the above lines, therefore I cannot believe that any patriotic Irishman having the authority would consent to placing the colors as they are unless he had the above lines in mind. And I feel sure our worthy president is true to the core, at least such is the opinion of

Yours Truly,

BARROWS SHAFT DOWN 50 FEET

M. A. Hanna & Co. Making Good Timbering its Barrows Mine South of Brainerd

EVERY HOUSE IS OCCUPIED

F. Anderson, of Gull River, Locates in Town—John D. Gile Gets Saloon License

Barrows, Minn., August 3, 1911—The mine of the M. A. Hanna Co., at Barrows south of Brainerd, known as the Barrows mine, is now down over 50 feet. It is a timbered shaft and good progress is being made in the sinking. A large crew of masons commenced work Monday bricking up boilers.

The boarding houses of the mining company at the mine and in town have been completed.

John D. Gile, of Brainerd, has finished his building measuring 25 by 70 feet and at the last meeting of the county commissioners a liquor license was granted to him.

All houses erected by the Iron Range Townsite Co. are occupied and there seems to be room for more.

F. Anderson, of Gull River, has purchased a double corner lot near the depot and will erect a building.

Irvin Amundson, of Duluth, is the new clerk employed by A. Quackenbush.

A. Quackenbush, of the Quackenbush Lumber & Mercantile Co., of Barrows, was in Brainerd attending to business matters. The building formerly occupied by Mrs. Emma Robinson for a boarding house has been rented by him and he has moved into it. He expects a visit from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Quackenbush, of Montgreen, Saskatchewan, this fall.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand

The Grand, for the balance of this week, has really the best show it has ever presented. There are two vaudeville numbers, both good, and any patron of the theatre who misses a visit at this popular play house this week is losing one of the best entertainments ever seen in the city.

The "Invincible Trio" is heard in old time southern melodies. They are good singers and the scenery they carry is also worthy of mention. The trio was repeatedly recalled and undoubtedly made a hit. To one who loves the old songs sung as only colored minstrels can render them he should not miss a visit at the Grand.

Frank and Flo Whitman present the sketch of an argument between a man and his wife and it was so real that several married men shivered in their seats. Reproaching her husband for not speaking she gave him no chance to get in an argument edgeways and she carried on the whole conversation as married ladies have so capably demonstrated they are well able to do. Miss Flo's dancing is very pretty and many a man stretched his neck to see her twinkling feet.

Three moving pictures complete the program, including also the song, "That Dreamy Italian Waltz," by Al. Mraz. "The Gauls Honor" is a film which reveals an exciting story and each shifting scene is followed with deep interest.

"The Missouri Girl"

It is a great pleasure to announce to theatre-goers of this city that Manager Hall has booked a return engagement of Fred Raymond's phenomenal comedy, "The Missouri Girl" which created such favorable comment here a year or so ago.

The clean cut comedy of the play, the antics of "Zeke" and Daisy and their merry associates are still fresh in our memory, and as this season's company is said to be even stronger than before, they will, no doubt, be greeted by a packed house upon their appearance at the Brainerd opera house on Tuesday, August 8. Prices, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

ASKS FANS TO BE LOYAL

D. A. Peterson, Manager and Treasurer City Baseball Team, Writes Dispatch About it

D. A. Peterson, the manager and treasurer of the Brainerd City baseball team has written the Dispatch the following letter wherein he urges the fans to be loyal to the Brainerd team and to remember that no team on earth can win every time. He writes as follows:

Gentlemen:

Just a small space in your daily paper to tell the Brainerd baseball fans what I think of baseball in Brainerd. It is a well known fact that the fans of Brainerd are the hardest people to satisfy and that they are also the first to appreciate a good thing. The truth of this assertion will be verified by anyone connected in any way with baseball, from the president of our baseball team to the scribe on the sporting sheet of any "two by four" country paper. We realize that we had to please a very fussy class of people.

Now this year we are mindful of the praise of the fans, and are more than thankful for the support we have got from them. We have at all times tried our best to give them a good, clean game. We have striven ceaselessly to provide the very best we could by getting special trains and rates for the fans. We have our good, honest band boys back of us and ready to lend us a helping hand, as they have done at all times. One thing is sure, you will not hear one of them complain about the baseball team. They are all boosters from the leader of the band to "Fatty" Woods, the big man with the bat. Any further comment is unnecessary.

We just ask you, one and all, not to find so much fault with us when we lose a game, as we surely cannot win every time. As we look over our work in the past we feel sincerely that we have surpassed our fondest hopes, and that we have done all in our power to satisfy all Brainerd fans.

All we ask is to stay with us. Lend a helping hand and you will find the Brainerd baseball team playing ball at all times. I will say this, that the worst kickers we have today are the ones that stand on the hill sides or on the bridge and see the boys play ball. Look them over and you will find I am correct.

Very truly yours,
D. A. PETERSON,
Mgr. and Treas. Brainerd City Baseball Club.

When a Man Dies.

It has been discovered that if a human being dies after an ordinary illness and not a violent death he does not die all over and all at once. He may have a diseased liver, heart or lung, and this may be the cause of his death, but it has been found that if the diseased organ could have been replaced by a healthy one life might have been maintained indefinitely. CIRCUS TOMORROW

Sells-Floto Circus Shows Afternoon and Evening in Brainerd, August 5

Get happy everybody!

Because tomorrow brothers and sisters the great Sells-Floto circus is due to arrive in our city and for the first time this season we will be permitted to gaze upon the glories of oriental magnificence, as truthfully described by the press agent, and view all the novel wonders of the tented world.

The time honored street parade without which even a circus of this magnitude would not be complete, has been anounced to commence at 10:30 tomorrow morning and it is natural to add that this will give prospective patrons an opportunity of judging just how much the Sells-Floto people have enlarged upon the entertainment which they gave last years.

The circus will arrive here on three special trains and will probably commence to unload about daylight and long before most of the little folks are out of bed. The coming of the big tents to any city, even from a newspaper standpoint, partakes of something out of the ordinary. It is seldon that anyone who has ever tasted of the delights of the saw-dust ring and its accompanying wonders ever forgets the sensations which accompany their first visit, or for that matter, fail to visit this ancient and honorable attraction whenever it comes within reaching distance.

This year we are creditably advised that the Sells-Floto circus comes to us offering more varied numbers on their program than ever before in their history. Several of the features are especially novel and include Feofilo Carbo, who slides head downward on a wire from the dome of the big tent. This is a dare-devil feat never before attempted in the world of amusements. The marvelous Omar, the balloon horse; the Sells-Floto army of clowns in a novel and side splitting act entitled, "Fighting the Flames"; high school and menage horses, the celebrated troupe De Louvre in poses in marble; the Gracinettis; the Melnotte family; Rhoda Royal's troupe of educated horses; the Hobsons; the Bedinis; the Lowandes; the Martell Smith troupe in a novel revolving trapeze act; the magnificent school of Sells-Floto trained elephants, and in this is included Mappy and Lucky the twin baby elephants, who will perform acts which you have never seen before.

Of course, all the above is in addition to the usual circus features without which the world of the big tents could not exist.

It will be remembered that the Sells-Floto people still maintain their wonderful price policy. 25 cents pays for admission to the big show in its entirety. Ticket offices will be open on the grounds as early as 9 o'clock on the morning of each performance.

LOOKS DARK FOR COLORED MAN

Robert Lee is Accused of Robbing City Hotel Register of $5 and Brandishing Weapon

WRESTLED WITH PROPRIETOR

Thomas Hanson, Aged 15, Pleads Guilty to Stealing Bicycle of Christ West

Two cases were called in municipal court this morning. Judge J. H. Warner first heard the charge of stealing or grand larceny in the second degree brought against Thomas Hanson, the 15 year old son of Hans Hanson, of 908 Sixth Ave. N. E. According to the complaint the lad is said to have stolen the bicycle of Christ West from near the National hotel on or about July 15. The wheel was recovered while the boy was disposing of it. He was brought before Judge Warner in July and allowed to go home to get his father to come to court. Young Hanson never came back.

Thursday Patrolman D. A. Peterson, of Northeast Brainerd, found the boy and arrested him. The father and the complaining witness were in court. The boy on being arraigned plead guilty to the charge, sentence to be imposed this afternoon.

C. J. Evensta, the proprietor of the City hotel, last night related a story to the police which resulted in the arrest of Robert Lee, a colored man. Mr. Evensta states that at about 11:30 Thursday evening he heard his cash register in the saloon just west of his hotel give a sharp ring. He ran through the area way. The door at the east side of the saloon was open. He ran into the saloon and found the register open and $5.20 missing. Seeing no one in the place he hurriedly ran back to the hotel part and through the kitchen and into the alley, hoping to intercept the burglar. Just then he saw the intruder bursting through the rear door of the saloon.

He grappled with the man near the fence and when a gun was thrust in his face Evensta let go and looked around for an ax to continue the unequal contest. Evensta found a shovel and threw it after the man but was unable to hit him as he ran through the gate of the fence.

At the afternoon session Lee was represented by Attorneys Barron and Charles A. Russell. The reading of the complaint was waived. The county attorney, W. A. Fleming, desired a continuance as he was engaged in a case before Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court. Judge Warner then set the case for nine o'clock Saturday morning.

The complaint as filed is sworn to by C. J. Evensta and alleges that Lee took $5.20 from the saloon on August 3 and then broke out of the building by forcing and breaking the back door.

Judge Warner took up the Hanson case and sentenced the boy, Thomas Hanson, to the Red Wing training school for a term continuing during his minority.

Harry Laymon, of the Empress, Gives a Score Board to the Baseball Park

Harry Laymon, manager of the Empress theatre, one of the greatest baseball fans in the city, has presented the team and park with a handsome score board 12 feet in height and 12 feet in length. Contractor C. B. Rowley is engaged today in setting up the board.

Its surface is slated and painted three coats and any figures marked can be seen over the field. It will be placed near left field. "All I wish," said Mr. Laymon, "is that there will be very few goose eggs chalked up to Brainerd. I want the board to show nothing but victories."

This board is a necessity and every attendant at the games will appreciate its installation and thank the man who conceived the idea of presenting it to the management.

Red, White and Green Hydrants

The Editor Brainerd Dispatch:—

Some few days ago you gave an explanation of the colors on the hydrants. Now, though I have every respect possible for Secretary Nelson, still I think you must have been misinformed. I think the following reason more likely to be correct. It is well known to all interested in such things that the colors red, white and green represent Ireland and a good poet of that nation explains them as follows:

"The red resembles the martyr's gore
The white for freedom round our shore,
And green was the mantle Erin wore
The day she was invaded."

Now any one acquainted with the Irish people knows how bitter they are against placing the red above the green unless as in the above lines, therefore I cannot believe that any patriotic Irishman having the authority would consent to placing the colors as they are unless he had the above lines in mind. And I feel sure our worthy president is true to the core, at least such is the opinion of

BARROWS SHAFT DOWN 50 FEET

M. A. Hanna & Co. Making Good Timbering its Barrows Mine South of Brainerd

EVERY HOUSE IS OCCUPIED

F. Anderson, of Gull River, Locates in Town—John D. Gile Gets Saloon License

Barrows, Minn., August 3, 1911—The mine of the M. A. Hanna Co., at Barrows south of Brainerd, known as the Barrows mine, is now down over 50 feet. It is a timbered shaft and good progress is being made in the sinking. A large crew of masons commenced work Monday bricking up boilers.

The boarding houses of the mining company at the mine and in town have been completed.

John D. Gile, of Brainerd, has finished his building measuring 25 by 70 feet and at the last meeting of the county commissioners a liquor license was granted to him.

All houses erected by the Iron Range Townsite Co. are occupied and there seems to be room for more.

F. Anderson, of Gull River, has purchased a double corner lot near the depot and will erect a building.

Irvin Amundson, of Duluth, is the new clerk employed by A. Quackenbush.

A. Quackenbush, of the Quackenbush Lumber & Mercantile Co., of Barrows, was in Brainerd attending to business matters. The building formerly occupied by Mrs. Emma Robinson for a boarding house has been rented by him and he has moved into it. He expects a visit from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Quackenbush, of Montgreen, Saskatchewan, this fall.

YOU'LL get pretty well acquainted with that mark which you see at the head of this advertisement before we get very far in this shoe-buying and shoe-selling; and we're going to get a good way in it, if you care anything about the quality you get for your shoe money.

Whenever you see a shoe with that mark on it, you needn't ask any questions about the quality of the leather, or of how well the shoe is made; if you like the style of it, and if it feels well on your foot, pay your money for it, because every penny of the price is in the quality of the shoe.

This is so true of these shoes, and Selz knows it to be so true, that every shoe bearing that mark also bears a guarantee tag, which says, in substance, that any shoe bearing the Selz name is absolutely guaranteed to give the wearer—that's you or ought to be—complete satisfaction. Whatever you think satisfaction means—fit, style, wear—Selz means, in this guarantee; and we are here to see that you get it. If these shoes fail to satisfy you, bring them back and get another pair, or your money back.

That's the kind of shoes we sell; the kind that Selz makes here. He made me believe he thought I was lying when I wrote to him about it. I got the photograph fellow to take this picture; I'm going to send it to that doubter in Iowa. It'll open his eyes.

"Oh, yes, it's some work to clear a place, but it isn't so bad if a fellow goes at it right. It's going to be much easier for me to do it than it was for dad, though my place is a little tougher than his was. People talk about stumps. They're some there, all right, but most of them aren't very big. Any stump up to six inches through you cut off about three feet from the ground, then you let the stumps stand a year to rot the small roots, and in the spring, after a good rain, you just hitch a team to the stumps and pull them over. Then you knock off the dirt a bit, haul your stumps together in piles and rows and burn them.

"Then your land's ready for the breaking plow, and you can raise a good crop of corn, potatoes or beans the first year. That four-foot corn I showed you a picture of—that's growing on a new breaking.

"This is what there is about it that has struck me strongest. It may be a bit of a job to clear your land, but when you've got it cleared you're reasonably safe. You don't have all the bad chances you have in most other places. You get land cheap, but the soil's all right—that's sure. All you've got to do is to stick to it and you'll get along as well as dad has, which ought to be good enough for any man."

"Your mention of potatoes," said a tall gaunt man whose red face shone under a fedora hat whose crown, opened full and round, stood prominent—"your mention of potatoes remind me of a yarn about a fellow who lives on Sugar Point, in Leeach lake, and teaches the Indian school there. Just to show the Indians how, this man started a garden there this spring and now he has a batch of potatoes in the express car on this train which he expects to sell at Brainerd for $2 a bushel. Some of them are five inches long."

"That's what I'd call a nature fake," said the fat man from Missouri, "with respectful apologies to you, sir," nodding good naturedly at the narrator of the improbable tale. "New potatoes aren't any bigger than that in St. Louis now."

"And have you anything else that says I'm falsifying?" asked the man on the defensive.

"Cigars for the crowd," said the fat man.

The accused left the smoking car and returned a moment later with his suitcase. Opening this, he produced three potatoes, all measuring at least five inches.

"I myself am the Indian school teacher at the Point," he said, "and I affirm that these, and the mates to them were grown in my garden. That they are "new" needs no declaration from me."

"Heah, George," called out the fat man, braving the laugh they gave him. "Bring cigars for the crowd."

When they had lighted them the Missourian, now turned defendant, sought to right himself by boasting of his luck at fishing.

"If I didn't think you Northerners were used to big catches I'd have the porter bring in the batch I have on ice in the baggage car—alongside those whooping Murphies, I reckon. It'll certainly be an eye-opener to the boys at home. There they hang around all day at Creve Coeur or some other blamed slough or mud lake and if they land a string of carp and bullheads and sheepheads they talk about it for a month. Now I'm going to show 'em trout, muscallonge, pike, bass, crappie and sunfish—"

A stranger who had not said a word laughed heartily and remarked "sunfish!" with an accent of contempt.

"Man," he said, "that's a kid's fish. Going to lug that back to Missouri?"

The Missourian looked on him indulgently; then said:

"Sir, there's nothing kiddish about my sunfish. They're as big as a pie-plate, every one of them. I caught them all on a trolling line. The fact is, gentlemen, my reputation in regard to fish stories is somewhat under suspicion down home and when I tell 'em about Minnesota sunfish I've got to produce the goods. I'll do it for any doubting Thomases there may be hereabouts, if it is desired."

No doubting Thomas asserted himself.

And so they talked through the long north country evening—talked of the forests, lumber trade, the conquest of the logged-off lands, the gradual extension of the cultivated area, the benefit the cities would reap from this extension, the growth of the towns—everything that suggests itself to a crowd of men whose lives have been crowded with interesting experiences. And when the fat Missourian left the smoking room to get into his berth he made this frank confession:

"Gentlemen, as to Minesota, I've been shown. It's to the good."

GEORGE H. CROSBY

George H. Crosby, the founder of the town of Crosby, has done much to develop the Cuyuna iron range. He has at present 11 drills at work in various parts of the range. Although Duluth is his home he has built a fine residence on Serpent lake in the east end of Crosby and has done much to improve and develop the hustling, growing town which bear his name. In addition to his many interests on the Cuyuna he has large holdings on the Mesaba where he owns among other properties the Crosby, LaRhue and Hawkins mines, all producing mines.

Mr. Crosby is quiet and unassuming but at the same time shrewd and far sighted. He is a man who does things. One of his latest successes is the record he made by finding three mines in the space of six months on lands which he has under option from the Shawmut Co., of which Louis Rouchleau, of Minneapolis, is president.

Oiled Streets Cause "Oily Eye."

"Oily eye" is the latest affliction which modern humanity has had to suffer. Numerous persons in South Norwalk, Conn., have been complaining of late that their eyelids have been turning yellow and their lashes have been falling out.

The doctors say it is a regular epidemic and assign it to the liberal use of oil upon the streets of the town. In confirmation they point to the fact that the trolley motormen are the greatest sufferers. More than 100,000 gallons of oil have been placed upon the streets of the town this summer

GEORGE H. CROSBY

George H. Crosby, the founder of the town of Crosby, has done much to develop the Cuyuna iron range. He has at present 11 drills at work in various parts of the range. Although Duluth is his home he has built a fine residence on Serpent lake in the east end of Crosby and has done much to improve and develop the hustling, growing town which bear his name. In addition to his many interests on the Cuyuna he has large holdings on the Mesaba where he owns among other properties the Crosby, LaRhue and Hawkins mines, all producing mines.

Mr. Crosby is quiet and unassuming but at the same time shrewd and far sighted. He is a man who does things. One of his latest successes is the record he made by finding three mines in the space of six months on lands which he has under option from the Shawmut Co., of which Louis Rouchleau, of Minneapolis, is president.

Oiled Streets Cause "Oily Eye."

"Oily eye" is the latest affliction which modern humanity has had to suffer. Numerous persons in South Norwalk, Conn., have been complaining of late that their eyelids have been turning yellow and their lashes have been falling out.

The doctors say it is a regular epidemic and assign it to the liberal use of oil upon the streets of the town. In confirmation they point to the fact that the trolley motormen are the greatest sufferers. More than 100,000 gallons of oil have been placed upon the streets of the town this summer.
